"AWRIGHT--You Rookies-- CHESTS OUT--STOMACHS IN!"

FROM "ARMY FUN"--MAR-1952

Hello, can't: No letters this week, so will make with some jokes, and some news about some of the lucky ones coming home on leave.

For instance--there's Cpl. Howard Green, of the Marines--according to an item in the Peninsula News Briefs in the Advance, he landed at San Diego this week after arriving from Korea aboard the Aiken Victory. Kid brother Charlie tells us that Howard will be home this weekend.

And then there's the Navy's Don Robertson, who will soon be home for a thirty day leave, after serving a long time on board the U.S.S. Repose--a hospital ship.

The Army's Stan Tindall and Dave Wilson are still seen around town on weekends--Stan is waiting for transfer elsewhere, and Dave is still at Fort Ord, (we think.)

Now--how's for a little chuckle or two? This one is out of the San Mateo County Union Gazette: "Then there was the army colonel who moved his desk from a favorable nook in the Pentagon Building and had it placed in the latrine. A brigadier general found him there and asked the why and wherefore. "Well," said the colonel, "This is the only place around here where people seem to know what they're doing."

Also from the same paper: Note from parent to teacher; "You must not whack Tommy. He is frail and delicate. We never hit him at home except in self-defense!"

And--"The bachelor's a caddy guy--
And has a lot of fun;
He sizes all the cuties up
And never Mrs. one!"

There--does that lighten the load a little? Hope so. We figure you guys can use a good laugh occasionally. If you want a real big Yak--don't miss the items about Brisbane's traffic problems, and so-called "joints" we're supposed to be running here. Some things get real funny--and I don't mean funny-ha ha!--VE EDITOR

CUB SCOUTS BLUE & GOLD DINNER:

The Blue and Gold Dinner for the Cub Scouts of Brisbane's Pack #142 was held on Sunday, February 10th, 1952--and was a huge success. The tables were most attractively decorated in blue and gold, with cunning place cards typifying cub scouts. Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Kurtz, and Mrs. Nielsen served a delicious dinner. Mrs. Jenson acted as chairman of the affair.

Mr. Richard Fassett and Mr. Carl Pouschel were presented with gold trophies in appreciation of their inspiring and sincere work in the cub activities. Mr. Milton Jenson, neighborhood commissioner, was master of ceremonies, and invested Jr. John F. Hughes as Cub Master, and Mr. Robert Parks as Assistant Cub Master.

Mrs. Saunders then presented Mrs. Arlene Pouschel with a charming lavalier in appreciation of her outstanding work as Den Mother. Mrs. Pouschel is retiring.

After the dinner and ceremonies, Mr. Urrea, of San Francisco, entertained the cubs with a number of well chosen and interesting movie shorts.

ARMY NEEDS MEN FOR O.C.S.:

The army needs more officers to fill it's 1952 quotas and is offering young men an opportunity to apply for officer candidate school.

Sgt. 1st-Class Salvatore G. Maucori, Burlingame recruiter, said that men 18½ to 27 years old may apply for OCS, and if qualified, enlist for two years.

Applicants without a military background must complete basic training before being appointed to an officer candidate school.

Upon successful completion of OCS training, graduates are commissioned as 2nd Lts. in the Officer's Reserve Corps and placed on active duty. Contact Sgt. Maucori at 307 2nd Ave--San Mateo or phone

LOCAL WOMAN CHAIRMAN W.A.T.S. AUXILIARY:

(from an article printed in the San Francisco News of Feb. 18, 1952):

There's no pay involved in this project. The job is part time--only one night a week. That's enough, however, to get you intraining should a disaster hit and all men were needed elsewhere. You'd be the ones to handle the busses for rescue and evacuation work!

It was for that purpose the Women's Auxiliary Transportation Service of Civil Defense was organized. Training started last September, but so far only 54 are signed up.

In charge of W.A.T.S. training is William D. Ratto, the assistant director of safety for the Municipal Railway. The instructors are Martin Wormuth and Clarence Leboy, who are usually assisted by the "oldtimers" in the auxiliary. One of these is Mrs. Kay (Glenn) Ivey, of 171 San Benito, Brisbane, California--who has been driving for 30 years--since she was "knee-high"! She started on buses during World War II and drove one month short of four years for the 12th Naval District.

From that she wears a pin reading "U.S. Navy Safe Driving Award." Mrs. Ivey has a no-accident record all the way through, both as a civilian driver (she is Brisbane's morning bus driver)--for the Navy, and on her present run for the Peninsula Bus Lines. Despite her six-day-a-week driving stint on Brisbane local bus, she seldom misses a Tuesday evening of helping to instruct the newcomers. One reason, she "just loves it".

Another is that she's convinced of the necessity of the training and the disaster preparedness it represents. Mrs. Ivey is already a grandmother twice over, and has a son in the armed forces, Sgt. Bob Glenn, who was recently released from Walter Reed Hospital in Washington D.C. to surprise his mother on an unexpected visit. Also living with Mrs. Ivey at her San Benito Road address is her daughter, Marjorie, a student at Jefferson Union High School. It will be remembered here in Brisbane that Mrs. Ivey's husband "Red" passed away unexpectedly some few months ago.

Eligible for this volunteer work is any woman between 20 and 45 years of age, and who has a driver's license. No dues to pay--no uniforms to buy. All the applicant has to do is show up at 7:30 any Tuesday evening at 2500 Mariposa Street in San Francisco, the home of the Petrero Car Barn. You just hop aboard the waiting bus, fill out your papers, and you're a member of the W.A.T.S. The driving instruction starts the same night. When you've mastered the bus driving, you'll be asked to sit thru a few lectures, watch movies, and take tests.

(from an article by LOIS THOMAS)

S.F. PAPER BLASTS BRISBANE AGAIN:

An article appearing in last Sunday's Examiner headed "On the Peninsula", and written by somebody named Frank Raymond, has once more made it appear that Brisbane's teen-agers are a bunch of liquor drinking hoodlums and beer parlor toppers. Thank goodness, this time the article was buried deep---it surprised us no end that it didn't appear on the front pages. We're just waiting for the Peninsula papers to take up the hue and cry, and try to make something of it! We would not have paid any attention to the article as it appeared--but it was brought to our attention by local citizens. Following is the article, reprinted exactly as it appeared:

"A Brisbane Bistro, visited frequently by a former Peninsula gambler and his girl friend (they usually ride in a big shiny Cadillac without license plates) is the object of surveillance by county authorities. Seems the establishment has been causing no end of consternation among northern parents of teen-agers who, it is said, visit the joint".

Well! Howcome the State Police, who have been plastering our average citizens automobiles with traffic tickets, for not cramping wheels to non-existent curbs here in Brisbane--haven't looked into that "no license" Cadillac??? And howcome Mr. Raymond hasn't come down here to find out for himself that the "teen-agers" frequenting so-called "joints" supposed to be running rampant here in Brisbane aren't BRISBANE teen-agers at all--but out of town motorcyclists and hot-rod drivers? And if some of these out-of-towners are TEEN-agers, I'm Whistler's Mother-in-Law! I hope I look that good when I'm sixteen again! I don't think even Hollywood could make thirty and forty year old out-of-towners look like teen-agers! These "kids" have been around, and I don't mean maybe! As for the so-called gambler and his girl friend---I'm the editor in this burg---and I haven't heard about any such "joints" on--have you? But then, being the editor--I'm the LAST person in the world to be told anything, I guess.

Anyway--I'm getting darned tired of big paper writers just taking it for granted that Brisbane is a hot-bed of gamblers, vice, and what-not! I live here, and I'm raising my two sons to be good citizens--and out of all the places in the world where I could have settled down, I picked Brisbane--because of the NICE people we've met here. Seems funny that everyplace else in the Bay Area knows more about our hometown than WE do--doesn't it? One of these days Brisbane is going to be big enough to hire a firm of lawyers for itself--and we're going to make some of these characters PROVE their lies and slander against our little city? ARE YOU WITH ME???

LOCAL GIRL LEARNS OF DEATH OF HUSBAND:

Mrs. Mildred Bartek arrived in Brisbane last week, accompanied by her daughters, Jacqueline and Janice George, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Chapman of 765 Humboldt Road, Brisbane.

The family and friends were all saddened by news received here Sunday that Mrs. Bartek's husband, damascene-controlman 3rd Class U.S.N., Albert Bartek, had passed away in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. Chapman accompanied her daughter from San Francisco Airport on Tuesday evening, Feb. 19th, enroute to Mr. Bartek's hometown, Grassflat, Pa., where the funeral will be held. Mr. Bartek is survived by his wife and daughters; by his father,

THREE BRISBANE BOYS BEATEN:

Three young Brisbane boys reported to the Sheriff's office recently that they were beaten and threatened with knives last week in an attack by five boys.

Victims of the assault were Ronnie Saunders, 10, of 678 Humboldt; Gerald Patton, 13, of 420 Sierra Point Road; and Dickie Kuhn, 10, of 640 Humboldt Road.

They stated they were walking in the hills between Brisbane and Daly City when they were set upon by five boys, 10 to 15 years old. The five took the Brisbane boys' knives, threatened them with them, and then beat them with sticks, knocking them down. No reason for the attack was given.

LOCAL P.T.A. WANTS P.T.A.:

The Brisbane Parent-Teacher's Association wishes to thank everyone for their donations to the recent rag drive, which enabled us to add $189.59 to the treasury for Child Welfare.

Mrs. Ada Jorgenson, rag drive chairman, reports that 2,858 pounds were collected--$134.72 was made on non-wearable rags, and $54.87 from the rummage sale of the wearable clothing.

Two prizes were awarded--one for lower grades, and one for upper grades--to the classrooms bringing the most rags during the drive. $5.00 was presented to Miss Hall's 3rd and 4th grades, while Miss Fisher's 7th grade won the other $5.00 award.

The P.T.A. is especially thankful to the children who carried loads and loads of rags down the hills, when it rained practically every day of the two-week rag drive. The job of separating the clothes as to rags and wearables, and watching it to determine the classes to whom the prizes went--was terrific! On the work committee were Mrs. Donald Jorgenson, Mrs. Louis Duncan, Mrs. Roy Edwards, Mrs. Benjamin Evans, Mrs. Porkel, Mrs. Edward Whitsen, Mrs. Alfred Pistohl, Mrs. Milton Jenson, and Mrs. William Wipprocht.

In closing--the Brisbane P.T.A. wishes to remind everyone that there will be another rag drive next year, so please don't throw anything away--keep saving them for us. This is one of the largest fund-raising activities of the P.T.A.--so keep us in mind, won't you???

LOCAL P.T.A. TO HOLD FOUNDER'S NITE MEET:

The Founder's Night meeting will be held in the school auditorium on Feb. 28th, at 8 p.m. This meeting is one of the most important of the year. It serves two purposes--one is to honor past presidents of the unit, and the other to elect new officers of the unit for the next year.

Especially different and good refreshments will be served at this meeting, and baby sitters will be on hand to take care of the little ones. COME ONE--COME ALL!

REPORT FROM JEFF HI:

A short course in flower arrangement will be offered in the adult classes at Jefferson Union High School, beginning Tuesday, February 26th. This class, which was requested by a number of women, will be taught by Mrs. Theresa Ferrero, who has had considerable training in this work. Individuals and groups interested should come to room 15 in the Main Bldg. Tues. Evening, Feb. 26th, 1952, at 7 p.m.

RED ALERT IMPRESSIONS:

From the office of the Brisbane Byline, the following impressions of Brisbane's Red Alert was gathered:

At the close of the siren's screaming, three people were seen strolling up the main street, as if nothing was going on. If the red alert had been for real, these three people would have been dead, injured, or totally blind today. One woman was walking her dog--dressed in the height of canine fashion, complete to green plastic rain coat. Lady, in case of a real alert, you had better leave Fido at home, if you don't want him ending up as a highly radioactive Hot Dog!

A beer truck rolled down Visitation toward the Highway; several family cars streaked up the hill full of potential "bombing casualties"; a meat truck driver went right on unloading his wares; (we suppose he was on a "schedule"--well, if and when an atom bomb falls, schedules won't be the only things knocked into Kingdom Come.); Civil Defense Chairman John W. Smith was seen patrolling the area in his own car; and a successful drill was held at the local schoolhouse.

According to Warren Recco, acting as Warden at the schoolhouse drill--a false alarm went off first, and all lower grades went to the hallways as instructed, while upper grades were held in classrooms. The real alert--at 10:20 a.m.--was heard very clearly at the schoolhouse, the drill was successful, and all students were well behaved. The all-clear sounded at 10:35, and was also heard clearly at the school.

However, at the Warden's meeting Wednesday evening at the Legion Hall, it was reported that other sections of Brisbane could not hear the alert signal at all. Confusing was Bayshore and Hunter's Points sirens, which blew some ten or fifteen minutes before the local sirens. Most of Brisbane acted on these signals, instead of their own. The siren could not be heard clearly at San Francisco and San Bruno Avenues (at the G & R Service Station), nor in the residential sections of Brisbane. The fluctuating siren could be heard only faintly from the stores and offices on the main street of Brisbane. Those persons inside buildings could hardly hear the sirens at all. A more effective siren, bell, or whistle must be installed--as a lot of local residents just thought it "was another fire or ambulance call".

On Tuesday, February 26th, at 8 p.m. at the local schoolhouse, there will be shown two movies--"Survival Under Atomic Attack", and "Fire-fighting for Households"--for your own protection you should see these movies. There will be no admission charge. These are official F.C.D.A. movies.

All in all--we think Brisbane recognizes the gravity of the situation--and those who don't will be the ones who will depend on the rest of us for help if and when the blow falls.-----YE EDITOR.
